Change From Old Quarters Made Saturday.

Original Bill Introduced by Hon. D. R. Paige.

He Was Father of the Measure—History.

Business was transacted for the first time in the new Post Office building Sunday morning.

The change from the old quarters to the new was made Saturday night. Everything was ready for the accommodation of the public when the doors were thrown open. The interior arrangements and finish were the cause of words of general approval. The building has been thoroughly described several times heretofore.

Hon. David R. Paige was the father of the bill which gave Akron its new government building.

He introduced the bill in the house for an appropriation of $75,000 for the erection of a Post Office building at Akron, Ohio. It had its first and second reading in the House. It was then referred to the proper committee and after due deliberation and consideration it was reported favorably with a recommendation that the bill pass.

Mr. Paige then took a copy of the bill to U. S. Senator John Sherman and asked that he introduce the bill in the senate and urge its passage. Mr. Paige also presented Mr. Sherman with a number of letters from prominent Republicans of Akron, urging the senator to co-operate with Mr. Paige in making the bill a law. These letters were obtained by Mr. Paige in order to show the senator that it was not a partisan measure. Some of these letters were written by Republicans that now seem to have a wonderful lapse of memory regarding the bill.

Senator Sherman, with his usual promptness and influence soon succeeded in having the bill referred to the proper committee and they referred it back to the Senate with a recommendation that it pass, and it was passed in the Senate.

Mr. Paige was an ardent supporter of the late Sam J. Randall, speaker of the Forty-Sixth Congress, and visited Washington two weeks prior to the opening of Congress and worked in Randall's behalf against Carlisle, the successful candidate. His preference for Randall over Carlisle was owing to Mr. Paige's position regarding the tariff.

Later on, when the "Morrison bill" was before the House Mr. Paige voted with the Randall faction to "strike out the enacting clause" which killed that famous bill, and that vote and his vote for Randall of course placed him in an unfavorable light with Carlisle as far as favors were concerned. He was not able to secure the assistance of the Carlisle faction to enable him to have a favorable vote on the passage of the bill in the House, and at expiration of the 48th Congress the bill of course became a thing of the past. These facts are given to prove that notwithstanding the bill was not passed while Mr. Paige was in Congress HE NEVERTHELESS WAS THE FATHER OF THE BILL and subsequent Congressmen simply took up the matter that he had originally brought before the House and Senate.

FAREWELL

Sermon Preached by Rev. A. Erving Scoville.

Congregation Presented Him With Purse—Will Take Vacation.

Rev. A. Erving Scoville, who for the past seven and a half years has been pastor of the First Baptist church, preached his farewell sermon to the congregation Sunday evening.

Tuesday morning Rev. Scoville, accompanied by his wife, will leave for Boston, Mass., where they will visit for a while, later going to other places throughout the state, where they have friends.

The term proper of the pastorate of the church does not end until September, but the congregation has granted Rev. Scoville a month's vacation with full salary. Rev. Scoville has not yet decided on his future course, which will not be determined until his return home from his vacation trip.

The prudential committee of the First Baptist church has arranged for services for the next two Sundays, August 6 and 13. Services will be conducted by Rev. C. L. Seasholes, of Lansing, Mich.

The morning sermon Sunday was a practical discourse from the text, "Ye also, as lively stones, are built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices, acceptable to God by Jesus Christ."—1st Peter, 2nd chapter, 5th verse.

The text of the farewell sermon was the 18th verse of the 3d chapter of John: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

The pastor referred to the text as being the epitome of the gospel, that when all its truths are made plain that it constitutes the preaching of the Word. Speaking metaphorically, the pastor said, "the verse is a diamond in the rough; all I hope to do tonight is to give it its setting."

Continuing the sermon the speaker said: "Man is the magnitude of God's work. He is the individual display of God's design."

In the conclusion of the sermon, Rev. Mr. Scoville said, "Why should my last words be more significant than those in my preceding sermons? It has never been my desire to preach sensational sermons, but the simplicity of truth."

The sermon was very brief, but full of many good, practical lessons. Its closing part contained the only reference to the separation of pastor and people, yet those words were full of kindness and appreciation of the happy relations that had existed between the pastor and his flock.

When the last verse of the closing hymn had been sung, Prof. N. L. Glover, leader of the choir, announced that as an expression of regret to the pastor from the choir and congregation a verse of "God be with you till we meet again" would be sung. The verse was sung slowly and with feeling by all.

At the conclusion of the services Rev. Mr. Scoville was handed an envelope by a member of the congregation. It contained $60, an expression of regard from members of the church.

Special city taxes are now due and will be payable at Treasurer's office, August 1st to August 20th, 1899. Charles H. Isbell, City Clerk.

BOY KILLED

By Cave-In—Sought Shelter From the Rain.

Irvin Jones, a son of Thos. Jones, of Cuyahoga Falls, was killed Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock by a cave-in.

Irvin, with his brother Russell, and Arthur Hawn, were swimming in the Cuyahoga river, north of the Falls. While returning home it started to rain. The boys sought shelter under a sand bank on the property of Charles Schneible. The ground was loosened by the rain and a cave-in resulted. Irvin Jones was completely buried in the sand, while the other two were covered up to their necks.

WARRANT ISSUED

For Arrest of Frank Le Claire—Assault and Battery.

Frank Le Claire of 183 Carroll st. is wanted by the police. A warrant is out for his arrest, charging him with assault and battery.

A week ago tonight Le Claire and James Patterson, an employee of the National American Cycle Co., who boards at Davis' lodging house on Mill st., had some words in Perry F. Ault's saloon at 322 Mill st. Le Claire walked out. A short time afterward Patterson started home. As Patterson stepped to the door he was hit just below the left ear with a stone, about six inches square. A wound four inches in length was inflicted. It required six stitches to sew it up.

Erysipelas set in and his eyes were swollen shut and face puffed up. Thursday it was feared he would have to be taken to the hospital. In the last two days he has gained steadily and is now able to sit up.

The warrant was issued Saturday morning for Le Claire. He cannot be found and it is believed he has gone to Chicago.

FORGERY.

County Clerk Hershey Worked by a Stranger.

Handed Over Money to Unknown Young Man—No Clew.

County Clerk E. A. Hershey is out $10 as the result of a clever forgery. Sunday morning an unknown young man called at his residence with a letter, which evidently was signed by a friend of the official's.

It stated that the writer had received a telegram announcing the serious illness of a relative. A loan of $5 was requested. The writer said that all ready money had been deposited in the bank Saturday night. Mr. Hershey, believing everything was straight, handed over a $10-bill, not having the amount asked for in change.

The young man departed with the money. Monday Clerk Hershey met the party who was supposed to have written the letter. Mr. Hershey asked about the condition of the sick relative. This resulted in his finding that the letter was a forgery. The party who was supposed to have written it knew nothing of the matter. There is no clue to the guilty party.

Akron Man Won Second Place Prize.

Rain Came Just In Time to Save Defeat.

Lady Print Starts at Youngstown—Sporting News.

Akron riders were very much in evidence in the road race at Kent Saturday.

Henry Dech, with a handicap of three minutes, finished in second place. Ford Lilly, who had four minutes start, crossed the tape fifth. Fred Shreffler was fourteenth.

The race was won by C. M. Willet of Erie, Pa. He captured both time and place prizes. Lilly would have won the race but for a number of unfortunate falls. He was leading the crowd and going fast when he fell. Dech won a $50 diamond ring and Lilly, a custom-made suit of clothes.

There were 88 starters in the race. The course was in bad condition. Considering this, the time made 1:17:19 was excellent.

BURGLAR

Frightened Away by Twelve Year Old Boy.

Strange Man Tried to Ransack Residence on Kirkwood Street.

Mrs. Casper K. Hosfield, of 129 Franklin street, is visiting her mother at Greenville, Pa. During her absence her house is being kept by her sister, Mrs. Milton H. Gunsaulis, of 133 Kirkwood street.

Saturday afternoon Mrs. Gunsaulis left the house and started down town. She left the key with 12-year-old Seymour Haller, who upon going into the house a few minutes after Mrs. Gunsaulis had departed, found a strange man sitting at a table, eating some victuals he had brought up from the cellar.

The boy told the man he had better get out of the house, whereupon the stranger replied that he would not go until he had looked through the house.

Possessing himself of a chair, and raising it above his head, the boy again ordered the stranger to go. This time he went, jumping through a window.

In a bedroom of the house was a valuable watch and chain, which the stranger could have found had he not been discovered by the boy.

Nothing has been seen of the man since. It is thought that he was a tramp whom Mrs. Gunsaulis had fed a few days previous. Mrs. Gunsaulis thinks the man had hid himself in the cellar earlier in the day, waiting for an opportunity to steal something.
